'We thought how ill change came to all Who kept the Flannan light And how the rock had been the death Of many a likely lad- How six had come to a sudden end And three had gone stark mad, And one, we'd all known as a friend Had leapt from the lantern one still night And fallen dead by the lighthouse wall-'

Wilfred Wilson Gibson