THE LIGHT ON OLD CAPE MAY

A sea chanty that was popular with square rig sailors about 1900, it was sung to the tune known as "Bigelow" and went like this,

The wind it blew from Sou' sou' east
It blew a pleasant breeze
And the man upon the lookout cried:
"A light upon our lee!"
They reported to the captain and
These words did he say—
"Cheer up my sailor lads,
It's the light on old Cape May"
