Watching

In childhood's season fair,
On many a balmy, moonless summer night,
While wheeled the lighthouse arms of dark and bright
Far through the humid air;
How patient have I been,
Sitting alone, a happy little maid,
Waiting to see, careless and unafraid,
My father's boat come in;
Close to the water's edge
Holding a tiny spark, that he might steer
(So dangerous the landing, far and near)
Safe past the ragged ledge.
I had no fears,—not one;
The wild, wide waste of water leagues around
Washed ceaselessly; there was no human sound,
And I was all alone.
But Nature was so kind!
Like a dear friend I loved the loneliness;
My heart rose glad, as at some sweet caress,
When passed the wandering wind.

Yet it was joy to hear;
From out the darkness, sounds grow clear at last
Of rattling rowlock, and of creaking mast,
And voices drawing near!
"Is't thou, dear father? Say!"
That well-known shout resounded in reply,
As loomed the tall sail, smitten suddenly
With the great lighthouse ray!
I will be patient now,
Dear Heavenly Father, waiting here for Thee:
I know the darkness holds Thee. Shall I be Afraid, when it is Thou?
On Thy eternal shore,
In pauses, when life's tide is at its prime,
I hear the everlasting roll of Time
Beating forevermore.
Shall I not then rejoice?
Oh, never lost or sad should child of Thine
Sit waiting, fearing lest there come no sign,
No whisper of Thy voice!
